

Capacity Building
CENTER FOR TRIBES

SEX TRAFFICKING PREVENTION

Training & Resources for Youth & their Caregivers

Native Youth Toolkit on Combating Trafficking

This toolkit aims to raise awareness and prevent trafficking of Native youth by educating them on what human trafficking is. It provides a list of available resources, safety tips, and ways for Native youth to get involved in their communities.

https://www.acf.hhs.gov/sites/default/files/otip/native_youth_toolkit_on_human_trafficking.pdf

Staying Safe: Tips for LGBTQ Youth for How to Protect Yourself and Your Community from Human Trafficking

This prevention tip sheet for LGBTQ youth discusses what human trafficking is, describes signs that may indicate they or a friend are being trafficked, and provides tips for staying safe and what to do if trafficking is suspected.

<http://polarisproject.org/resources/staying-safe-tips-lgbtq-youth-how-protect-yourself-and-your-community-human-trafficking>

Love146 – Materials for Youth

This agency developed a five-module interactive prevention curriculum, Not a #Number, designed to teach youth ages 12-18 how to defend themselves against child sex trafficking, build their self-esteem, and learn to identify and avoid recruitment tactics. The curriculum also provides supports and resources to help exit the life of child sexual exploitation.

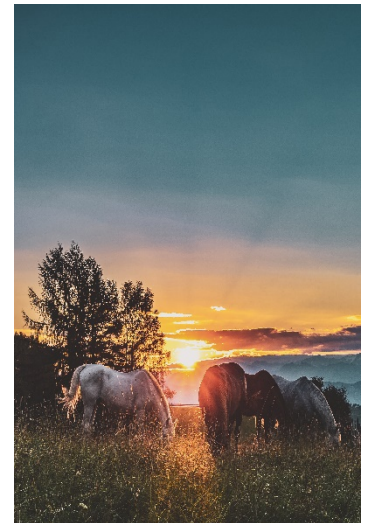

Preview the Curriculum: <https://love146.org/wp-content/uploads/2017/03/NotaNumber-Preview-2017-reduced.pdf>

Love146 Online Safety Guides: For teenagers (<https://love146.org/action/online-safety/omg-the-internet/>) and for caregivers (<https://love146.org/action/online-safety/internet-safety-guide/>).

Love146 - A Guide for Parents and Caregivers: What You Can Do to Safeguard your Children and Others in Your Community

The five units in this training consist of: Introduction to child trafficking and exploitation, myths and misconceptions, the power of words and perceptions, what makes us vulnerable and what you can do to protect your child. Information, examples, videos, questions for reflection and takeaways are provided. While written for parents/caregivers, the information and reflective questions are appropriate for anyone pursuing prevention efforts.

<https://love146.org/caregivers/guide/>

Human Trafficking: Protecting our Youth

A strengths-based tip sheet for parents and caregivers within the 2015 Prevention Resource Guide, Making Meaningful Connections, defines human trafficking, outlines some signs and symptoms of trafficking, and explains what parents and caregivers can do to help.

What you Need to Know: Sex Trafficking and Sexual Exploitation, a Training Tool for Parents of Teens

This guide for caregivers includes an overview of sex trafficking, information on how perpetrators and pimps target teens, tips on how to keep youth safe from this crime, and information on where to go for help.

601

<https://ncjtc-static.fvtc.edu/resources/RS00007771.pdf>

This resource was created by the Capacity Building Center for Tribes, and has been updated by NTCWCIA.